

Describe two people you know from the same family

1. Who they are
2. How much these two people have similar personalities
3. how much they look similar
4. and explain how the two people get along with each other

I would like to talk my uncle and his wife. Although they have totally different apperances, people could definitely tell they are from the same family because they wear the same style and walk at the same pace. Maybe they have been living together for 30 years, their life habits have affected each other. My relatives like to tease them and say “one means two” for the reason that they always appear together.

answered question 1 and 3

I think they get along with each other very well. They have same hobby and share different opinions about same phenomena. They fell in love with each other when they did the same volunteer work together at school. After married, they kept doing all kinds such work from teaching, accounting, environment protection, to kid health. My uncle told me volunteer work helps them build a strong connection to the whole world. He never expected that doing volunteer together with his wife makes them feel healthier and happier. Once when they helped a disabled kid go to montains which was his dream, they were affected by that kid’s laughter and happiness. They also think volunteer work build a bridge from their hearts, and they looked close the each other’s kindness.

1.1 strong connection to the world

two key points: same hobby, share different opinion

1.2 feel healthier and happier together

2.1 have lots of books

The interesting thing is they are not always the same. As far as I know they both like reading. I know they have a big book shelf in their house. All kinds of books on universe, literature and even mathmatics have filled that study. They are used to reading the same book and discussing together; sometimes they even write comments on Facebook. They often have totally different opinions on a same book. For example, my uncle thinks William in the book “homecoming” is very brave because he fights for his dream and come ture it finally. But his wife thinks William is just a selfish man. He does not care about his family’s thoughts and focus too much on his work. He does not have a balanced life, so this kind of guy should not be an example for public. I still rememeber we, the other relatives, replied fiercely on their Facebook, that’s quite interesting. Anyway, it seems that they had different ideas and they were quarreling, but in my opinion, they enjoyed this kind of debating, and this gives a good chance for their deep discussion.

2.2 writing different comments

In one word, their same personality and same hobby made them very happy and get along with each other very well.
