

Describe a famous person

1. Who this person is
2. How you got to know about this person
3. what he or she has accomplished
4. and explain why you are interested in this person

Na Li is the first Asian player who won the tennis Grand Slam. In her career, she won the French Open in 2011 and Australian Open in 2014, respectively. She is not talented player neither in height nor power. But she is one of the most hardest-working player. She is a short and slim Chinese woman. It really incredible that she won the French Open and one interesting thing is that her coach is her husband. Both Serena Williams and Maria Sharapova are the greatest player in WTA. Na Li is not the most famous. That make her becoming one of the top players. Her highest ranking is 2 in 2014 after she won the Australian open. However retired in the same year. But and now she had 2 children and a family.

I like watching tennis very much. So I want to talk about a famous tennis player from China, Li Na. I became fascinated by tennis after watching 2011 Australian Open woman's Final - Li Na vs Kim Clijsters from Belgian. And also from that very match, I got to know Li Na.

Answering question 1 and 2

Li Na lost that match I just mentioned. I found she has no advantages over European women because she is not as high as Maria Sharapova and is weak in power. That's the reason from my opinion why she lost 2011 Australian Open. ★During the ceremony, she gave a very determined speech. She said she want to get this trophy and although she has weakness, she would come back here definitely. I admit, from that moment, I start to become interested in this determined woman.

First reason: she is determined, using her speech to support

She found a new coach, hoping to bring new fresh air to her career. I do not know what they have done together during practice time, but her performance in 2011 French Open shooked the world. During her seven clay matches, she defeated four grand slam champions, including the defending champion in final round. ★Clearly, she changed a lot, for example, she tried to not complete power; when her rival hit ball powerful, she changed the angle and pace of ball, which won her an attack chance. In addition, she hit the ball as low as possible to make high players uncomfortable. What a clever player. She deserves French Open title. I become more interested her even a little bit admire her because besides her determined mind, he is such an player who tries her best to compensate her shortcomings using her advantages and win the match.

second reason: her changing using two points to support: pace and angle, ball height when hitting answering question 3

She also got her favourite grand slam title in Australian Open 2014. So she retired with two grand slam titles and rank world No.2. This is a great achievement for a tennis player determined

if you are determined to do something, you have made a firm decision to do it and you will not let anyone prevent you I'm determined to succeed.
